Before the House Ways and Means Committee, Subcommittee on Health

“...the ability to say "no" and exclude certain products from the formulary is crucial for the success of most price negotiations performed in America today. When the PBM has a choice, and therefore the ability to negotiate, the market can work,” said Dr. Socal.

September 26, 2019

Before the House Education and Labor, Health Subcommittee

“One of the strengths of the 340B program is the discretion it affords eligible hospitals in tailoring the use of program savings to address the unique needs of their communities,” said Charles Reuland.
